Dr. Ken Moyd Set to Retire after More than 30 Years

Dr. Ken Moyd

Dr. Moyd, who received his Medical Degree at the University of South Carolina and did a residency at Spartanburg Regional Medical Center, has been at CareSouth Carolina for more than three decades, serving in his home community.

Born in Virginia, Dr. Moyd moved to Hartsville when he was just two years old and has been a part of Darlington County ever since. Growing up, Dr. Moyd said that he never could picture himself being anything other than a doctor and serving in the medical field.

“My father was a doctor and my best friend became a doctor,” Dr. Moyd said. “I couldn’t think of anything else I wanted to be and, once I finished Medical School and my residency, CareSouth Carolina offered the best opportunity for me to return home and serve in the capacity that I wanted to serve.”

Dr. Moyd worked in the CSC Hartsville office for a year before a brief stint working in the private sector for just a few months. He then returned to CareSouth Carolina and transferred to the Rosa Lee Gerald Center in Society Hill, where he has been for the last 32 years.

Over the last three decades, Dr. Moyd noted how much he has seen change at CareSouth Carolina since he began.

“It seemed like it was always a struggle to stay open and get funding in the beginning. It was a tough go,” Dr. Moyd said. “Then, all of a sudden, things really started to get better. Society Hill got much stronger and, now CareSouth Carolina is a large organization with dozens of offices all over the Pee Dee. It truly was a ‘backyard beginning’ and now it’s grown into this massive organization. It has been so much fun to watch.”

Dr. Moyd said that he has built many relationships at CareSouth Carolina over the years that he will miss. From nurses, to front-office personnel, Chief Medical Officers, I.T. specialists, maintenance workers, and CEO Ann Lewis, he’ll always remember the work they were able to accomplish together.

CareSouth Carolina CEO Ann Lewis said that Dr. Moyd will be sorely missed, but that his retirement is well-deserved.

“It seems impossible that Dr. Ken Moyd has been with us since 1988. I remember his first days in Society Hill – in what we call the “old building”, now used for Special Programs,” Lewis said. “There are so many attributes that I think of when thinking of Dr. Moyd: compassionate, caring, unflappable, smart as a whip and so kind and gentle. Although he will be sorely missed, we are so happy for a retirement future for him that will be well deserved.”

Dr. Stephen Smith, Chief Medical Officer with CareSouth Carolina, said that Dr. Moyd is one of the most intelligent people he has ever come to know.

"I had the pleasure and privilege of partnering with Dr. Moyd for the past 30 years," said Dr. Stephen Smith, Chief Medical Officer with CareSouth Carolina. "Dr. Moyd is one of the most intelligent people I know and blessed with an easygoing personality. I can't imagine being partnered with anyone better."

Dr. Moyd said that, ultimately, he wants to be remembered for being a medical provider who "treated everybody right."

"You're doing good for people," Dr. Moyd said. "I don't want to just provide the service for them. If they're being referred to a specialist, I want to tell them what they can expect. Really try to make medicine less scary for people and make it less of a mystery for people."

As he looks forward to retirement, Dr. Moyd says he'll focus on traveling, gardening and planting. He says he has 13 more states to visit before he can say that he's visited every single state in the United States and that he plans to expand his Apple Orchard.

Dr. Moyd's last day with CareSouth Carolina will be on February 16, 2023.

CareSouth Carolina Welcomes Sharonda Legette, FNP-C to Latta

CareSouth Carolina welcomes Sharonda Legette, Certified Family Nurse Practitioner, to its Latta location. Legette brings with her more than seven years' experience in nursing that includes providing care for infants, toddlers, adolescents, adults, and geriatric populations. Originally from Conway, Legette says she is excited about the opportunity to serve her community.

"I am very passionate about serving all individuals as it pertains to healthcare," she said. "However, I have a true passion and love for servicing underserved and rural communities. I feel that my service in these communities is significant and meaningful. My desire is for all patients to receive quality healthcare, unfortunately, that is not always the case for rural communities. My hope is that by providing women's, pediatric, adolescent, adult, and geriatric care in a rural community I am able to provide quality healthcare to all of my patients and make a difference in their health as well as their healthcare experience."

Sharonda Legette,
FNP-C

Legette earned her Associate Degree in Nursing from Florence-Darlington Technical College, her Bachelor of Science in Nursing from Western Governors University in Salt Lake City, and eventually her Master of Science in Nursing from Francis Marion University.

As a new mother of an 11-month old daughter, Legette says she enjoys spending her free time "watching her learn and explore the world around her." She also enjoys spending time with her husband. "He and I were avid travelers prior to expanding our family," she said. "We have been blessed to visit many different countries and continents. I hope that we are able to continue those travels in the near future with our new bundle of joy."
